Editorial

It is with great pleasure that the Faculty of Education, Far Western University has published inaugural issue of Far Western Journal of Education. This is a double-blind peer-reviewed journal published annually by the Faculty of Education, Far Western University, Nepal. The primary goal of this journal is to contribute to the process of knowledge creation in the field of education and its dissemination by providing a platform for scholarly discussions about the role of education in improving human capabilities and overall well-being along with developing academic environment in local, national and global context.

Education stands at the forefront of individual, societal and national development. Our commitment to fostering various aspects related to education like pedagogy, learning-teaching, testing, assessment, inclusion, language, ICT in education, psychology, planning, leadership, professional development, etc. through research and innovation remains unwavering. As educators, researchers, leaders and policymakers, we must embrace local and global knowledge based on latest research and innovation as a catalyst for the enhancement of individual and institutional academic capabilities and hence lead to the development in various fields. Through our collective efforts, we can ensure that publication of this journal will serve as a gateway to opportunity for all in surfing in the field of educational research.

I encourage you to engage deeply with the articles and insights presented in this issue. Let us continue to push the boundaries of educational research and practice, striving for excellence in every facet of education.

Thank you for your continued support and dedication to advancing the field of education.

Warm Regards,

Dr. Madan Singh Deupa
