About The Journal

Gipan means ‘language’ in Kusunda, a seriously endangered language of Nepal. This interdisciplinary journal is dedicated to the study of issues related to language, linguistics and applied linguistics including focused studies on endangered language in Nepal and beyond.

Gipan has both the ISSN for print and online versions: ISSN 2594-3456 (Print) and ISSN 2795-1561 (Online). It is also indexed with NepJOL and is available online at <https://www.nepjol.info/index.php/gipan>

Aims of the Journal

Gipan is an international, double-blind peer-reviewed journal of critical readings on interdisciplinary issues related to language, linguistics, applied linguistics and several other disciplines. It aims to provide linguists, policy makers and learned members of the community an authentic open-access platform featuring scholarly research, reviews and perspectives on the state of current discourse on topics of interdisciplinary interests.

Mission

The journal will strive to create a platform where scholars, experts and thinkers exchange informed, critical and analytic discourses on various topics related to language, linguistics, applied linguistics and several other disciplines.

Vision

The main vision of Gipan is to become a leading international platform for multidisciplinary research with high academic standards, innovative approach, and wider impact on the concerned language community.

Peer Review Policy

This journal follows double-blind peer review policy. This journal provides immediate open access to its content on the principle that making research freely available to the public supports a greater global exchange of knowledge.
