Chief Editor's Voice

It's a pleasure to successfully publish the annual multi-disciplinary peer-reviewed research journal GYANJYOTI as volume 3(1) by the Tribhuvan University Teacher's Association (TUTA), Mahendra Multiple Campus, Dharan, Province- 1, Nepal.

The journal is designed to serve as an outlet for an intellectual forum for the communication of intellectual ideas among professionals and other social scientists in relevant areas in general and with special reference to Nepal. It publishes high-quality scholarly papers covering theoretical and empirical research addressing multi-disciplinary areas. The board welcomes all professionals, researchers and all those interested to publish their research findings with significant contributions to society and its academic sector. Authors are also encouraged to submit papers which are related to current international, national or local issues.

All the articles submitted for publication must go through a double-blind peer review before they are finally accepted. Manuscripts submitted to this journal must not have been published or accepted for publication or submitted for publication elsewhere. The journal strictly follows the guidelines of UGC, Nepal, APA 7th edition.

The journal is the outcome of efforts and cooperation from the article contributors. We would like to appreciate and thank Mr Chandra Kumar Rai, Chairperson of TUTA, MMC Unit, Dharan for providing the opportunity to work on this academic publication. Similarly, we are thankful to all faculty members and researchers for their encouragement and valuable suggestions.

The opinions expressed in the articles are the author's own and do not reflect the view of either the publisher or the editorial board. All manuscripts once published become the property of the publisher. We hope that inspiration and encouragement from the readers will continue to keep GYANJYOTI alive. We are also looking forward to receiving your comments and suggestions for further improvement in the future.

Prof. Ashok Kumar Jha, PhD.