

The Editorial

We are happy to release yet another and a fresh new issue of a new volume of the Journal of Science and Technology (JoST) – Volume 3 Issue 1. This issue has set a few new goals viz. (1) to provide higher recognition to the published articles by providing DOIs to them through Nepal Journals Online (NepJol); (2) to increase the accessibility of the JoST by publishing it online also so that readers can get both print and web versions; and, (3) to expand the availability of the articles to various other index databases too and thus, extending the reach of the research works to the global boundary.

Unlike in previous issues, this issue has a collection of papers not only from students of NCIT but also from scholars from outside the college. In the due course, we had to incorporate research works from non-IT fields as well. And therefore, this issue of the JoST has published articles in two different formats – APA and IEEE. Publication of papers in multi-format will continue in the future issues also, making the JoST arguably the first-ever multi-format journal of Nepal.

We would like to extend our hearty gratitude to all the authors who have submitted their research ideas and results to the JoST. We also thank the JoST committee, the college management and every individual for pouring down their efforts in making the JoST of this shape. A big appreciation goes also to the reviewers who have played crucial role in lifting the quality of the manuscripts to a remarkable level through tedious processes of major and minor revisions.

We thank you all!
