

Editorial Note

It is my immense pleasure to announce the publication Vol. IX, No. 1/2 issue of "The Lumbini Journal of Business and Economics". This publication has been in the works for almost one year. This journal aims to provide a common platform where original research and recent developments in the fields of business finance, accounting, management, economics, public finance, fiscal policy, labor economics, and econometrics that contribute to national and international development can be shared.

I'd like to use this opportunity to remind you that the Lumbini Banijya Campus' Department of Research and Development is working hard to improve the quality of research in this region. The simple initiation taken by LBC would ultimately benefit all researchers conducting their studies.

We the entire editorial team expresses sincere gratitude to the respective contributors during International Conference on "Recent Developments in Business, Management and Social Science" is being organized by Research and Development Department, Lumbini Banijya Campus.

The team also expresses sincere thanks to President, Campus Management Committee of LBC Mr. Motilal Pandey, Campus Chief Prof. Dr. Tara Prasad Upadhyaya, all the faculties, staff and students of LBC for their supportive attitude to bring this issue into final form.

This issue contains eleven research articles with a variety of topics to meet the needs of current Nepalese business environment. The publication of this issue would not have been possible without the significant contributions of the Editorial Board members. Thanks to all members. Thank you to everyone who participated.
