

Editorial

As we mark the 22nd year of uninterrupted publication of the esteemed academic journal, Pragnya Sarathi, we do so with great pride and joy. Throughout these two decades, our commitment to disseminating knowledge and fostering intellectual discourse has remained steadfast, encompassing a diverse array of disciplines including Economic Studies, English and Nepali Literature, Political Science, Sociology, as well as various fields within the realm of pure Science, and the Education Sector. Since its inception, Pragnya Sarathi has stood as a beacon of scholarly inquiry, providing a platform for researchers, academicians, and enthusiasts alike. It has evolved into a repository of insightful articles, making invaluable contributions to the academic community and beyond.

We are delighted to announce that, beginning from this volume, Pragnya Sarathi will be published through the open journal system. This transition reinforces our commitment to ensuring that our wealth of knowledge is accessible to individuals across the globe. This move is a testament to our dedication to share our scholarly work with a wider audience, contributing to the global body of knowledge. The journey to this point has been marked by the significant contributions of many individuals who have been instrumental in shaping the journal since its inception. It has been a constant source of inspiration and a vital resource for researchers and readers alike. We acknowledge the invaluable role played by contributors who have generously shared their expertise over the years, enriching the pages of our journal with their profound insights.

We extend our deepest gratitude to our readers who have supported us in this journey, finding value and inspiration within our publication. Additionally, we express our heartfelt appreciation to the peer reviewers whose meticulous evaluations have greatly contributed to the quality of the articles in their respective fields. We are grateful to the esteemed scholars who have generously shared their valuable articles for the publication of this issue. Special thanks are due to those who have taken on the complex task of peer reviewing these articles, ensuring their academic rigor and excellence.

We would like to acknowledge the Chairman of the Board of Directors of Dhawalagiri Multiple Campus, Professor Dr. Din Bahadur Thapa, as well as the Members of the Board, Campus Chief Prof. Dr. Ram Prasad Upadhyaya, Associate Prof. Dr. Sudarshan Silwal, Assistant Campus Chiefs Hari Prasad Pandey and Hiralal Regmi and Dr. Dilli Raj Gautam. Their creative suggestions have greatly contributed to the publication of this scholarly journal. We extend our gratitude to all department heads, professors, staff, and students for their support. Special thanks to Namuna Offset Press, Baglung for their assistance in publishing this issue, and to Krishna Majhi for his invaluable help in computer setup.

Finally, as we enter the auspicious year 2080, we extend our heartfelt wishes for happiness, peace, good health, long life, and prosperity to our teachers, staff, students, education enthusiasts, parents, philanthropists, and all our well-wishers. May we all continue to advance in our academic pursuits.

Editor-in-Chief